Abstract: Chinese traditional culture, a precious spiritual legacy of our nation, continues to radiate wisdom after millennia. In today's era, characterized by the proliferation of information and cultural diversity, ideological and political education (IPE) in colleges and universities (IPECU) holds paramount importance in shaping the young generation's worldview, life outlook, and values. The bond between this storied culture and university-level IPE is profound. The profound contents of traditional culture serve as invaluable theoretical resources for IPE, while its distinctive way of thinking profoundly influences the ideological and moral frameworks of college students. Incorporating this rich cultural heritage into university education not only enhances the depth and breadth of teaching content, improving educational quality, but also fosters the moral fiber of students and steers them towards embracing upright values. Through the offering of traditional culture courses, the holding of lectures, and the conduction of practical activities, we can facilitate a seamless integration of traditional culture with IPE, fostering mutual benefits for both. Consequently, treasuring and perpetuating this exemplary traditional culture, and leveraging its significance in university-level IPE, is imperative for nurturing exceptional Chinese citizens and advancing the glorious rejuvenation of our nation.

1. Introduction

As the wheels of society roll forward, each era carries its unique mission and responsibility[1]. In today's era of information explosion and cultural diversity, IPECU is particularly important. It is not only a discipline, but also a key link in shaping the worldview, outlook on life, and values of the younger generation, shouldering the responsibility of cultivating excellent citizens and future leaders for society[2].

The excellent traditional Chinese culture, as the accumulation of the millennium old civilization of the Chinese nation, is our root and soul[3]. It contains rich wisdom and showcases the unique way of thinking and values of the Chinese nation. In the IPE of universities, the integration of excellent traditional culture is not only the inheritance and promotion of traditional culture, but also a profound spiritual baptism for young students.

In the process of strengthening IPECU, we must deeply recognize the important educational role of excellent traditional culture[4]. It can not only help students establish correct moral concepts and cultivate noble moral sentiments, but also guide them to establish firm ideals and beliefs, pointing the way for their future life path. Therefore, combining excellent traditional culture with IPECU is an important task in current university education work[5].

College IPE is not only a course for imparting knowledge, but also an important platform for cultivating students' comprehensive qualities[6]. By delving into the study of excellent traditional culture, students can draw wisdom from it, enhance their self-cultivation, and enhance their cultural confidence. This is crucial for the personal growth of college students, and it is also a necessary condition for them to become excellent citizens and future leaders in the future.

Excellent traditional culture is the spiritual lifeline of the Chinese nation, carrying the historical memory and cultural genes of the Chinese nation[7]. In today's era of multicultural integration, we should cherish and inherit this precious cultural heritage, let it play a greater role in IPECU, and contribute to the cultivation of more outstanding Chinese people.

2.1. Overview of Excellent Traditional Culture

The rich tapestry of traditional culture, a repository of historical wisdom and national treasures, has withstood the test of time through millennia, retaining its unique allure[8]. It represents the distillation of Chinese wisdom and a deep imprint left by our ancestors along the vast expanse of history. From the ancient oracle bone inscriptions to the evolution of Chinese characters, and from the ancient agricultural civilization to the emergence of modern industrialization, traditional culture enriches the spiritual essence of the Chinese people with its profound heritage and meaningful connotations.

The illustrious traditional culture of China, standing as the spiritual beacon of our nation, is laden with profound ideological meanings and ethical principles[9]. It upholds the harmonious coexistence among people and champions virtues like integrity, amicability, diligence, and frugality, which are the fundamental guidelines in our daily lives. Incorporating this culture into IPECU not only aids in cultivating the moral fiber of students, but also steers them towards establishing upright worldviews, life perspectives, and values.

The integration of esteemed traditional Chinese culture into IPECU is an inevitable prerequisite for educational progress[10]. In the era of globalization, it becomes even more imperative to cherish and perpetuate our national culture, ensuring its resplendent radiance in the contemporary age. Concurrently, this represents a natural trend towards the sustained development and advancement of both the Chinese nation and its illustrious traditional culture. Through education, a wider audience can come to appreciate and embrace traditional culture, enabling it to maintain its significant role in the new historical era and contribute towards the resurgence of the Chinese nation.

2.2. The relationship between excellent traditional culture and IPECU

The bond between IPECU and the esteemed traditional Chinese culture is akin to an inextricable lifeline. This tie is not solely expressed through the profound meanings of traditional culture that fertilize IPE, but also through its profound influence on the Chinese people's thought patterns, ideological and moral perspectives, and value orientations.

The illustrious traditional culture of China is rich in ideological and political essence, encompassing concepts such as benevolence, propriety, righteousness, and integrity in Confucianism, as well as the principles of nature and inaction in Taoism. These ideas represent the distilled wisdom of the Chinese nation across millennia, offering invaluable theoretical insights for IPECU. By embracing and inheriting these esteemed traditions, college students can acquire a profound understanding of the values and ethics of the Chinese nation, thereby fostering a righteous worldview, life perspective, and values.

Furthermore, the profound traditional Chinese culture has deeply infiltrated the mindset of the Chinese people, serving as a crucial foundation for our problem-solving and ethical judgments. This mindset has exerted a significant influence on the ideological, moral, and value orientations of college students. Consequently, in IPECU, it is imperative to thoroughly consider the impact of traditional culture on students' thought patterns, seamlessly integrating it into educational practices, guiding students to accurately interpret and apply traditional wisdom, and fostering healthy and aspirational ideological and moral perspectives.

In order to achieve the organic integration of excellent traditional Chinese culture and IPECU, we need to constantly explore new forms and methods of education. Traditional culture can be integrated into the entire process of IPECU through courses on traditional culture, lectures on traditional culture, and practical activities on traditional culture. This not only promotes the development and innovation of traditional culture, but also enhances the quality and effectiveness of IPECU, achieving a win-win goal. Figure 1 clearly illustrates the relationship between excellent traditional Chinese culture and IPECU.

3. The value of excellent traditional culture in IPECU

The excellent traditional Chinese culture, as a spiritual treasure of the Chinese nation that has undergone thousands of years of trials and tribulations, still shines brightly today. It not only carries rich historical connotations, but also an important embodiment of our national spirit. In today's diverse and rapidly changing era, effectively applying excellent traditional Chinese culture to IPECU has profound significance and value.

The integration of excellent traditional Chinese culture can greatly enrich the teaching content of IPECU. The moral education concepts, philosophical ideas, historical stories, etc. in traditional culture are valuable educational resources. By introducing these contents, not only can ideological and political courses become more vivid and interesting, but they can also help students better understand the history and culture of the Chinese nation, enhance national pride and cultural confidence.

The utilization of esteemed traditional Chinese culture serves to elevate the ideological and moral standards as well as political consciousness of college students. The ethical principles and value orientations embedded in traditional culture serve as crucial guides for students in establishing a proper worldview, perspective on life, and values. Additionally, through profound study of traditional culture, students can enhance their sense of affiliation and loyalty to the path of socialism with Chinese characteristics, fortify their ideals and beliefs, and establish a solid basis for their future growth and progress.

Furthermore, esteemed traditional Chinese culture serves to cultivate patriotic sentiments among college students. Patriotism, a core value in traditional Chinese culture, emphasizes love and devotion to one's nation. By studying and inheriting traditional culture, students can gain a profound understanding of the essence and spirit of patriotism, translating this sentiment into practical actions and contributing their efforts towards the prosperity and might of their motherland.

The employment of esteemed traditional Chinese culture within IPECU holds timeless practical significance. It is imperative to delve deeply into the rich meanings and application values of traditional culture, seamlessly integrating it with IPECU, and jointly fostering the inheritance and advancement of illustrious Chinese culture.

4. The application of excellent traditional culture in IPECU

The fusion of esteemed traditional Chinese culture with IPECU holds indispensable significance in nurturing the moral and spiritual attributes of college students. In the contemporary educational milieu, our focus should extend beyond mere knowledge transmission, emphasizing the amalgamation of this knowledge with traditional culture to enrich the content of IPE and revolutionize its application techniques.

Integrating esteemed traditional Chinese culture with IPECU is a holistic and multifaceted endeavor. By elucidating ancient classics, we can steer students towards a profound comprehension of the moral precepts and value aspirations embedded in traditional culture. Furthermore, through the conduct of diverse cultural activities, students can practically immerse themselves in the enchantment of traditional culture. Additionally, an unconsciously influential aspect lies in cultivating a campus ambiance rich in traditional cultural nuances.

The excellent traditional Chinese culture contains rich resources for cultivating virtue and nurturing talents, which can be integrated with the teaching objectives of IPE. By tapping into these resources, we can guide students to establish correct worldviews, life philosophies, and values, and shape their personal qualities with valuable cultural spirit.

Integrating excellent traditional culture into campus cultural construction is also an important way to play the role of environmental education. We can set up cultural exhibition areas on campus to showcase traditional cultural works of art and historical relics; By holding cultural lectures and exhibitions, students can enrich their cultural life; It is also possible to create a strong cultural atmosphere by constructing buildings and landscapes with traditional cultural characteristics.

With the widespread application of excellent traditional culture in IPECU, teachers are also facing higher requirements for their professional competence. Teachers must strengthen their learning and research on excellent traditional culture, continuously improve their cultural literacy and educational level, in order to meet the needs of IPECU. This will help to enhance the professionalism and overall educational level of the ideological and political teacher team in universities, laying a solid foundation for cultivating more college students with noble moral qualities and firm ideals and beliefs. Table 1 clearly shows the integration and measures of excellent traditional culture and IPECU.

5. Conclusions

The excellent traditional Chinese culture, as an important carrier of the spirit of the Chinese nation, has undergone thousands of years of sedimentation and still shines with the light of wisdom.

In IPECU, integrating excellent traditional culture not only enriches the teaching content, but also helps to cultivate the moral and spiritual qualities of college students. By delving deeper into the moral education concepts and fresh materials in traditional culture, college students can be guided to establish correct worldviews, outlooks on life, and values, laying a solid foundation for their growth. Integrating excellent traditional culture into campus cultural construction can play an important role in environmental education. By organizing various cultural activities, constructing cultural exhibition areas, and other means, students can feel a strong cultural atmosphere on campus and be influenced unconsciously. This integration not only enhances the practical effectiveness of IPECU, but also promotes the recognition and inheritance of traditional culture among college students. With the widespread application of excellent traditional culture in IPECU, higher requirements have been put forward for the professional competence of teachers. Teachers must strengthen their learning and research on traditional culture, continuously improve their cultural literacy and educational level, in order to meet the needs of educational work. This process not only enhances the professional quality of teachers, but also strengthens the overall educational level of ideological and political teachers in universities.

The integration of excellent traditional Chinese culture and IPECU has profound significance. Through multifaceted and multidimensional efforts, we can promote the deep integration of the two and contribute to the cultivation of college students with noble moral qualities and firm ideals and beliefs. At the same time, this integration has also promoted the innovation and development of IPECU, laying a solid foundation for cultivating more outstanding talents.
