Faith is the driving force for anything to move forward, because with faith, there are so many successful people and things in the world. Don't ever complain about your own destiny, because it's your own hands, you can't complain about the unfairness of your destiny, you can't complain about the real trouble, and you can't complain about why your parents put you. But people with faith never complain because they know how to make their lives better and more interesting. Without faith, life will be full of disgust and fatigue, without faith, there will be no motivation, no spiritual support, no goal of struggle. Because of faith, life is beautiful, let us with their own good faith on the road, blooming the most dazzling light! Life needs faith, courage, perseverance.
