Abstract: the road of socialism with Chinese characteristics is always based on the basic national conditions, adhere to reform and opening up, adhere to the people's yearning for a better life as the goal of struggle, and promote all-round development. This paper will analyze and discuss how to carry out the road identity education method of socialism with Chinese characteristics in university education, analyze and analyze the road theory of socialism with Chinese characteristics from many angles, according to the definition in the report of the 18th National Congress of the Communist Party of China and the spirit of the concept in the report of the 19th CPC National Congress, summarize the college students' understanding of the road of characteristic socialism in the new era, grasp the current ideological situation of college students, and further carry out theoretical analysis. In order to improve the socialist road, there is an effective way. The path is explored.

1. Introduction

Under the guidance of Marxist thought and ideological teaching as the theoretical basis, this paper analyzes and probes into it from many angles and aspects, so as to strengthen the innovative theoretical basis of college students. From the field of road education, this paper explores the content and related experience of students in each period on the road of socialism with Chinese characteristics. As shown in figure 1, through various forms of discussion and dialectical socialist road with Chinese characteristics, we should strengthen and improve the ideological and political theoretical basis of students, reflect the identity of the road more targeted, accurate, and comprehensively reflect the identity of the road, effectively solve the ideological and conceptual factors of college students, and strengthen the thinking and countermeasures of the road to deepen the exploration. Form, according to the analysis of the situation, to provide a useful basis for colleges and universities. Through the analysis of many factors in the formation of students' identity concept, the ideological idea is cultivated, and the “general switch” of ideal and belief is tightened, and the “string of thought” of mental state is tightened [1].

2. The Present Situation of the Research on the Implementation of Socialist Road Identity Education with Chinese Characteristics in Universities

In the new era of society, pluralistic social conditions, the rapid development of new media, the formation of a fixed mechanism system for the identification of political theory education, the realization of educational methods, ways and theoretical innovation, as shown in figure 3, lead the ideal and belief through “road confidence”, integrate “road confidence” into ideological education, and explore the status of “road confidence” identity and effective countermeasures and related reasons for college students [2].

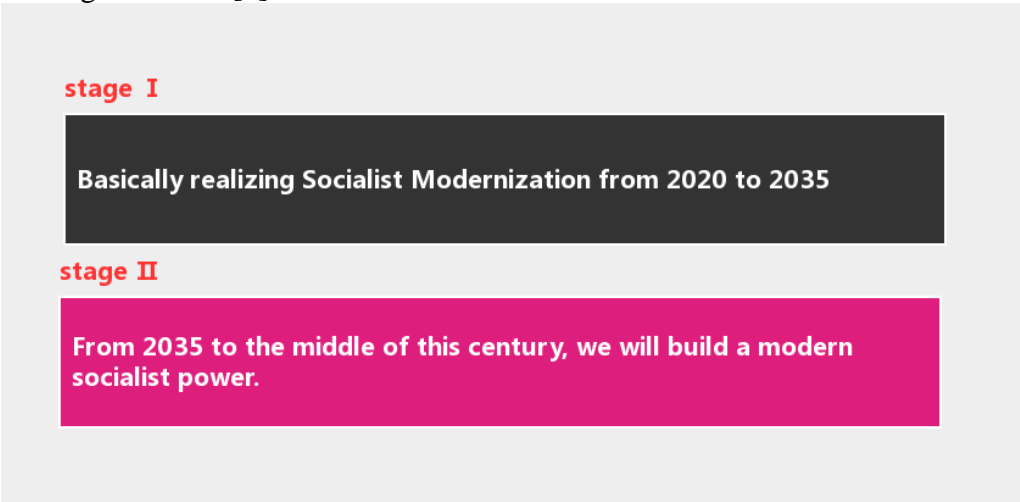

Fig.3 Prediction of Road Self-Confidence Development

At present, there are rich achievements in the road of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Articles and monographs on road self-confidence pay attention to the thought, theoretical basis, social form, development idea and strategy of the road, and explore the theoretical source and safety guarantee of the socialist road. However, from the basic point of view, it focuses on the exploration of the road, and does not aim at strengthening the identity of the college students and earnestly improving the cognitive ability of the characteristic road of the college students. It is urgent to cultivate socialist construction.

3. Effective Ways to Strengthen College Students' Education of Socialist Road Identity with Chinese Characteristics

The new era opens a new journey, the new era calls for new acts, the society on the road of the new era presents complex characteristics of the times, and the diversified ideas define the comprehensive educational concept of the socialist road. As the road identity education of socialism with Chinese characteristics, it is necessary to keep pace with the times, adapt to the requirements of today's society, pay attention to the diversified methods and effective ways of training, analyze and evolve to a higher level of scientific development, and achieve results. With the progress of science and technology and the development of the times, it means that it has a strong vitality and ushered in a qualitative leap from standing up to strengthening. It is the full state of mind of contemporary college students not to worry about it. False voice is the progressive posture of our theory, we can not only see the bright future, but also see the long way to go; we can not only look forward to a better future but also do not fear a thousand turns [3].

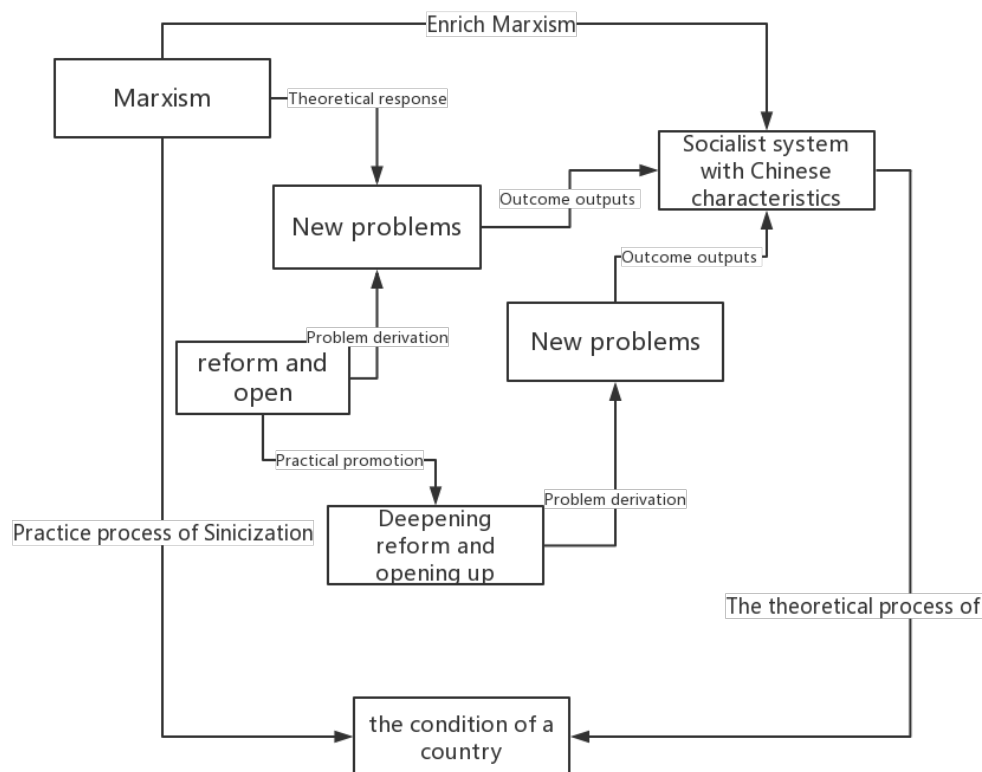

Fig.4 Map of Socialist Characteristic System

As shown in figure 4, understanding the socialist characteristic system, strengthening and improving the road identity education of college students and improving the overall political literacy are related to the strategic project of the future of the country. We should constantly expand our cognitive thinking, constantly explore the path, integrate the party's principles and policies and socialist core values into the educational concept through the construction of image carriers, and earnestly put education into practice. Grasp the marked strength of iron, good beginning and end, good success, promote reform, constantly see real results and changes, and promote the role of development.

3.1 Close to the Concept of College Students in the Era of Road Identity Education

Classroom teaching is the main form for college students to receive road identity education.

They should pay close attention to theoretical knowledge and classroom content, carry out Marxist theoretical education, arm students with ideological ideas, and build a solid ideological foundation. General Secretary Xi pointed out the question of “who should be trained” in ideological education in colleges and universities, correctly understand the responsibility and mission of the times, pay attention to scientific theoretical knowledge, and correctly understand the Chinese road. See figure 5 for practical operation. Only by clearly speaking politics and doing a good job in theoretical knowledge can contemporary college students make clear the direction of the road, analyze the world situation in a longer term, be positive and enterprising, and turn passivity into initiative.

As shown in figure 6, reasonable thinking guidance and guiding college students to establish correct ideas and beliefs are the only way for college students to grow. Reasonable educational ideas and effective educational methods are of great teaching significance to college students' education. First, adhere to the achievements of Marxism to arm the mind, guide college students to believe in Marxism and establish ideals. Deeply understand the importance of socialist road, clearly show the value, consciously pursue socialist ideal. Second, adhere to ideals and beliefs into teaching and education, into ideological and political, extracurricular activities, literary and artistic performances, we should let students understand the national conditions from various angles, social conditions, and guide students to actively participate in the society. The practice of sectarian practice, from the heart to identify with the road of socialism with Chinese characteristics. Third, adhere to the combination of common ideals and personal direction, guide college students' personal ideals, realize the integration of personal ideas into national wars, pay attention to the requirements of college students, solve all kinds of problems and problems in their lives and study, so that they can make their personal ideals and beliefs clear [4].

3.2 Pay Attention to the Theoretical Knowledge Education of Socialist Road with Chinese Characteristics

It is the primary task of college students to carry out theoretical knowledge education of socialist road with Chinese characteristics. The contingent of college students in our country is huge and professional, and they are the most knowledgeable groups in the contemporary era. It is the most important problem to systematically educate them on theoretical knowledge, strengthen road confidence and pay attention to the cultivation of talents. During the university period, the students are the key period of long knowledge, knowledge and talent, have independent ideal and revenge, have pioneering thinking and ability, give full play to the positive role of political work, cultivate diligent study, enrich knowledge, pay attention to talents, can not only specialize in theoretical knowledge, but also care for the country, care about the people and adhere to the people. Interests are paramount, adhere to the political direction of personnel training, and develop in an all-round way. It is of great significance to strengthen the education of college students' road identity and vigorously promote the theoretical system.

3.3 Do a Good Job in the Teaching Form of Curriculum Theory

It is the basic duty of ideology and politics to attach importance to Marxist theory into the classroom and promote Marxism into the mind. In order to facilitate college students to understand the theoretical system, adhere to Marxism into the classroom, clarify the teaching content, popularize the classroom language, put the language close to life, close to reality, step by step teaching form. At the same time, the teaching forms are diversified, the teaching film materials are organized, the students' perceptual thinking is transformed into rational thinking, the students' perceptual thinking is transformed into rational thinking, the theory of viewpoint is paid attention to, and the students are guided to understand the socialist road, build, deeply understand the emancipation of the mind and promote the scientific development through various forms. [5].

As shown in Table 1, the ideological and political classroom always faces up to the difficulties, organizes the students to think positively and ask questions, and gives explanations, pays attention to the theoretical point of view, and carries on the persuasion education. Under such conditions, ideology and politics can not be shirked, strengthen the sense of ideological and political responsibility, adhere to the teaching attitude of seeking truth from facts, be good at analysis, and give full play to the role of theory in road identity education.
