Abstract: The cultivation of college students' core values should be guided by socialist core values, combined with professional characteristics, to integrate the professionalism required by the industry, meet the needs of society and enterprises, and meet the vital interests of contemporary college students. Through the integration of socialist core values, it provides a new way to solve these problems. From this, it puts forward that socialist core values dominate a variety of theories, trains students' reasonable professional values, and updates the content system of ideological and political education. From the perspective of development ideas, this paper explores the path to integrate socialist core values into college students' career planning education. The core value of socialism runs through the whole process of college students' career education, which can help college students establish lofty career ideals and unify their personal ideals with social ideals.

1. Introduction

Career planning education for college students originates from the western employment guidance theory system. Since the introduction of higher education in China, it has been rapidly applied to the employment education of college students in China with the reputation of "planning life, preparing for employment, career basis" [1]. The majority of young people should study hard, cultivate morality, distinguish clearly and be sincere, so that the socialist core values become their basic adherence, and strive to create their own wonderful life in the great practice of realizing the Chinese dream [2]. The school's study life has an important influence on the formation of college students' ideological and moral system [3]. The core values of contemporary college students are dominant and dominant in the whole university student value system, reflecting the basic orientation of college students' values [4].

In college students' employment and entrepreneurship education, traditional education has been difficult to adapt to the current employment market and the needs of long-term development of learning. We must focus on the career development of College students. Career education should be carried out in depth, and career education guidance for college students should be innovated to promote their all-round development [5]. Integrate core values into career education, and then enhance the effectiveness of socialist core curriculum education and teaching [6]. This requires more and more schools at all levels to have a clearer understanding of some of the constraints of current core values education. Determine career ideals and career goals. You can also better understand your major, professional development prospects, professional and job needs, in addition, based on their own situation and objective reality, rationally arrange their entire university life [7]. The value of socialism is at the highest level of values, reflecting the national consciousness. The core values of college students are at a lower level, representing the daily ideology of college students. The core values of socialism play a leading and guiding role in the formation of college students' core values [8].

2. Necessity of Integration of Socialist Core Values and Professional Spirit

In order to be accepted and practiced by college students, the contents of their core values must be in line with their personal interests and pursuits [9]. In order to meet the requirements of the national vocational education reform and shorten the distance between the school education and the needs of enterprises, higher vocational colleges and universities should take measures to meet the needs of the national vocational education reform. Through extensive social practice, college students can participate in the front line of volunteer service, social service and service for vulnerable groups. Let them know and understand the society through their own personal experience, so as to understand the great achievements of China's socialist cause and enhance the sense of value and historical responsibility of building socialism with Chinese characteristics. Assisting college students to play an active role in education, self-awareness, career exploration, rational decision-making, workplace adaptation, etc., so many college students benefit from this, with confidence and dreams to work.

Under the guidance of vocational planning education, before making career decisions, college students will evaluate and explore their self-development and the current situation of the industry in an all-round way, so the decision-making is more rational [10]. On the one hand, it can improve the employment ability of College students, make them find satisfactory jobs as far as possible, and play an important role in their own development. On the other hand, the development and improvement of individual students can promote the healthy development of the whole society. Properly use the "step-by-step" education law, with "classification guidance" as the basic principle, according to the individual needs of students, in a different time period to reasonably create a career planning education suitable for all types of individuals. The truthfulness, beauty, falsehood and ugliness of things and events can independently make value judgments, form the moral norms and values of their inner identity, and guide their specific behaviors in life without deviating from the social development.

The education of socialist core values has a strong pertinence. Especially for college students, strengthening the education of socialist core values is not only conducive to improving the ideological and political quality of College students, but also crucial to cultivating the comprehensive quality of College students. Emphasis is laid on improving their professional skills and building up their professional confidence. College students' career planning education should keep pace with the times. Taking socialist core values as a new perspective to study college students' career planning education, making it more effective, is conducive to the further expansion of educational methods and educational paths. Guided by the core values of socialism, we will hold "exercise powers" or "work life interviews" to allow outstanding graduates who have graduated to return to school to give lectures or to allow students to interview outstanding alumni in the professional field and guide college students to pursue Rationalize career goals.

3. Path Choice of Core Values

To adapt to the future employment and competition in the workplace, college students should not only have skilled vocational skills, but also have the professional spirit required by the industry. The cultivation of College Students' core values should adhere to the integration of socialist core values and professional spirit, so as to meet the inherent needs of students to adapt to career development. We should build a campus culture that embodies the characteristics of socialism, the times and schools, and create a strong campus culture atmosphere conducive to the propaganda of socialist core values. Colleges and universities should make full use of all effective educational platforms for students to carry out socialist core values education. In fact, college students are in the critical period of value formation. Only positive value guidance and perfecting students' personality are the unshirkable responsibility of educators. Those educational behaviors that pursue value neutrality and unconditionally encourage students to choose their own values are a biased understanding of professional values education.

Strengthen cooperation between schools and enterprises, and establish professional practice bases. Nowadays, the more popular way of working is internship. This way, students can fully understand the detailed information of the occupation, experience the occupation that they are interested in, constantly strengthen the practice link, and improve the corresponding career planning.

In the process of teaching, we should use the socialist core value system to lead the post-modernist trend of thought and criticize the negative ideological harm brought by post-modernism. Improve the rational thinking ability of college students to distinguish between right and wrong, promote the socialist core values into the teaching materials, enter the classroom, enter the mind, and effectively guide the college students to use the socialist core value system as the judgment standard and behavior. In practice, we will further clarify our professional ideals and better understand ourselves so as to better explore our own qualities and potentials. To create a quality character that is hard-working and hard-working, and to experience the storm of social practice, so as to increase their skills and talents.

Career education includes the education of career development theory guided by Marxist theory. Its ultimate goal is not only to solve the problems related to students' career development in a simple sense. This is mainly because the socialist core values involve all aspects, so we must integrate the socialist core values education into all aspects of the ideological and political education teaching, and form a strong joint force of education and teaching. All types of schools at all levels should actively explore the operational system of socialist core values education. Looking for the common value of college students' value pursuit, and condensing the core values of college students. Using the popular language around the students and enjoying the popular language, the appeal and persuasiveness of the socialist core values will be enhanced, and the function of ideological and political theory courses to cultivate socialist core values will be fully utilized. Only by condensing the core values that meet the needs of college students and meet the characteristics of college students can they resonate among college students and accept them for college students, thus enhancing the effect of cultivating core values.

4. Conclusion

In this paper, the specific path of integrating socialist core values into college students' career education is analyzed. The end point of vocational planning education in schools must not be satisfied with the recommendation of employment and the promotion of employment rate. Instead, we should take a higher stand, from the perspective of human concern, focusing on the guidance of College Students' spiritual ideas and values, so that students can feel concerned in the dribs and drabs of life and learning. We must always pay attention to various factors affecting ideological and political education activities, strive to overcome negative effects, master the laws of ideological education, and constantly expand the effective attraction of ideological and political education in schools. Form a unique career planning education curriculum system; we must grasp the rules that are caused by things, from time to time, and from the trend. It is consistent with the characteristics of the society's demand for talents under the current market economy conditions, and it is also an effective way to solve the problem of low effectiveness of school career education.
