1. Introduction

Taking “cultivating people by virtue” as the fundamental task of education is the starting point and general direction of the current reform and development of higher education.”khalid ents in the final analysis is to answer” good “for people who cultivate people and cultivating what and how to train people”, its basic connotation, which can be roughly divided into “khalid” and “tree” two levels ^[1], pointing out the essence of education directly, “khalid ents” process is by no means a simple knowledge transfer, also is not simple to let the students to find a good job in the graduate.how to help students complete the process of “building morality” in college, and then truly realize the goal of “cultivating people”, should become an important topic that every university needs to study.the concept of “virtue” is very broad, and the process of “virtue” is also to achieve a number of specific goals of ideological and political education, among which clean education should be an important goal to be completed.through carrying out clean education for college students, through the clean knowledge of the theory of teaching and practice of corruption case study, step by step to strengthen the education and influence of college students, guide them to firmly establish a clean, self-discipline, love and dedication of good moral character, buckle the first button of life, this is the inevitable requirements of moral education.

2. On the Premise of the Fundamental Task of “Cultivating People by Virtue”, a Comprehensive Understanding of the Importance of Deepening the Clean Education of College Students is Given

At present, some corrupt ethos in colleges and universities bring serious challenges to honest education on campus, and also bring serious impact to the specific work of carrying out ideological and political education required by “cultivating people by virtue” in colleges and universities.It requires university workers to give more powerful rectification and scientific guidance, and the only way is to further improve and deepen the clean education of college students.

2.1 Deepening Honesty Education is an Effective Way for College Students to Develop Excellent Moral Character

Colleges and universities are the cradle of cultivating national talents. Young college students learn knowledge in high schools, increase their abilities, and constantly strengthen their own morality. Before college students leave the campus and go to the society, through the edify of the campus honest culture, it is beneficial to cultivate their optimistic philosophy of dealing with affairs, moral faith, establish legal awareness and clear their social responsibility.

2.2 Deepening Honesty Education for College Students is an Effective Carrier to Perfect the Content of Campus Culture

Campus culture is the core cultural character inherited from generation to generation in a university, and it is an effective way to carry out the fundamental task of “cultivating people by virtue”. Honesty culture is a kind of campus culture in essence, which is an important content of spiritual culture and system culture. By continuously promoting the construction of honesty culture in colleges and universities, the content of campus culture can be further enriched, the ideological and moral level of students can be enhanced, and the connotation of school development can be enhanced.

2.3 Deepening College Students Clean Education is a Good Way to Construct a Harmonious University Campus

“Integrity is the foundation of harmony.”^[2] For a long time, Chinese colleges and universities have attached great importance to the education of clean government for the majority of Party members, faculty and leading cadres, but often neglect the most important object of education -- the requirement of clean education for students, which also leads to the weak awareness of clean government among many college students. At present, further deepening the honesty education of college students is beneficial to help students establish the concept of law and discipline and enhance the consciousness of moral self-discipline.

2.4 Deepening the Clean Education of College Students is an Inevitable Need to Create a Good Social Atmosphere

Carrying out honesty education among college students, guide students to form correct authority view, position, view and values, and by thousands of students, influence behind the concept of integrity of tens of millions of households, can build up A advocate clean family atmosphere, which in turn as a family as a carrier to build positive and healthy cultural environment of the whole society.

3. The Present Situation of Clean Education for College Students in Our Country is Not Optimistic

At present, colleges and universities also pay more and more attention to carry out the propaganda and education of the party style and clean government, and the campus environment has been further purified. However, at the same time, various colleges and universities attach great importance to the teaching staff and ignore the clean education model of the student group, which is also an important reason for the clean education concept of the student group to be improved.

3.1 The Phenomenon of Social Corruption Has a Certain Influence on the Education of College Students Against Corruption

In recent years, with the rising popularity of the Internet development, to enhance the transparency of social information, some Revelations of social corruption cases, brought great influence on education on college students' honesty, few college students form the wrong understanding because of this, and this kind of a handful of corruption as the norm, not only conducive to the construction of campus of clean and honest culture, will seriously affect the college students set up correct values, which affect college students after it into a long and progress.

These wrong cognitions should be corrected in time so as to avoid influencing the establishment of correct values of college students.

3.2 The Negative Influence of Campus Academic Corruption on College Students' Honesty Education is Still Obvious

In recent years, academic misconduct in colleges and universities has become a hot issue in the society, which is seriously affecting the reputation and ethos of colleges and universities, and has also become a prominent clinical problem in the aspect of clean education for college students. Especially for college students on campus, it is the key period for “three views” to build a foundation, and the influence of the wrong direction around is not huge.

3.3 The Work of Honest Education in Colleges and Universities Still Needs to Be Further Strengthened

Some colleges and universities still do not pay enough attention to the clean education of college students, and the education methods are single and innovative enough. At present, the development of honesty education in colleges and universities is mainly promoted by discipline inspection and supervision departments of colleges and universities. All relevant departments and secondary colleges have not formed a joint educational force, and have not formed an effective and sound integrity education mechanism and system. All these problems seriously affect the implementation and effect of honesty education for college students. In addition, the diversification of the network world also increases the complexity of carrying out clean education for college students. The school pays too much attention to the knowledge education of college students while neglecting the moral education and psychological quality education, which leads to the poor moral quality and psychological quality of some college students, so that they can not correctly view the bad social atmosphere and corrupt behavior.

4. Reasonably Grasp the Basic Principles of Deepening the Honest Education of College Students

The honest education in school has its own particularity. Therefore, several basic principles must be followed in order to ensure that the honest education of college students can be further deepened and achieved practical results.

4.1 Follow the Principle of Being Close to Reality

Deepen the college students' honesty education should pay attention to enhance the students' psychological recognition with, combined with the ideological dynamic, conforms to the psychological characteristics of college students, the science reasonable arrangement and honest education content, as far as possible through plain language, vivid examples and easy to accept the form of college students honesty education, make the education content and method accords with the recognition know law of young college students.

4.2 Follow the Positive Guiding Principle

Young college students are now in a critical stage, the thinking model of right from wrong ability are relatively weak, and strong rebellious attitude, has obvious curiosity, therefore they honesty education should be different from adults, in the education capacity and the way of education should give full consideration to the psychological characteristics of college students, the strong hold guide incentive is given priority to, with positive opposite case not too much propaganda, so as not to cause the students' negative psychological effects. Therefore, in the development of honest education among college students, we should adhere to the positive education as the main education hand section, and we can take some warning cases as the auxiliary education in time.

4.3 Follow the Principle of Psychological Counseling

Because the psychology of college students is sensitive and fragile, we should be good at psychological counseling. Through psychological communication and sincere communication with them, we should grasp the inner thoughts of students, and make a targeted and profound analysis of their ideological status, so as to ensure the positive and healthy thinking of students.

5. An Effective Way to Deepen College Students' Honest Education from the Perspective of “Cultivating People by Virtue”

Integrity education for college students is a complex system engineering^[3]. General Secretary Xi Jinping pointed out in his discussion with the faculty and students of Peking University on May 2, 2018, “It is necessary to internalize the cultivation of moral education into all fields, aspects and links of university construction and management, with the cultivation of moral education as the core and the foundation.” Similarly, the development of honest education also needs to really play the role of teachers, management service personnel, counselors and other university staff, in each aspect, each link, each field of efforts, education links, rich education methods, continuous improvement and innovation of education means, in order to ensure that the actual effect.

5.1 Emphasize the Effect of Environmental Education and Create a Clean and Positive Campus Atmosphere

Higher education is not only the transmission of knowledge, but also the training of interdisciplinary talents with professional skills. It is also the implementation of the basic requirements of “cultivating people with moral integrity”. Such a specific training goal requires us to create a clean, disciplined, clean and upright campus cultural atmosphere, through a good campus environment to constantly guide students to identify with the concept of clean education, strengthen personal integrity and moral awareness, behavior habits^[4]; Through the enrichment of the path and carrier of clean education, the strong atmosphere of clean education in the whole school, so that the majority of students in the campus under the influence of the atmosphere, establish a moral awareness of honesty, honesty and respect.

5.2 We Will Promote “Clean Education in the Classroom” and Improve the Effectiveness of Education

In order to produce practical results, honest education should play the role of the main channel of the first classroom and promote honest education into the ideological and political theory courses of the whole school. In the content of study, we should give full play to the role of the main channel of ideological and political theory teaching, carry out a series of teaching activities of “clean education into the classroom”, and enhance the vividness and effectiveness of clean education among college students.

5.3 Strengthen the Construction of Campus Culture, Consolidate the Culture of Clean Groups and Deepen the Education of Clean College Students.

With the campus cultural activities as the body, carry out anti-corruption story speech contest, anti-corruption cultural works collection, essay collection, film watching activities, the establishment of college students anti-corruption associations, etc., in the school to create a strong clean culture atmosphere, and constantly pass the content of clean culture to students; At the same time, to strengthen the construction of campus cultural positions, we should further play the organizational functions of the Party and League organizations, student societies, student dormitories and campus networks, and complete the self-education and self-promotion of students.

5.4 We Will Give Full Play to the Exemplary and Leading Role of Teachers and Continue to Promote the Construction of Teachers' Ethics

The moral quality of college teachers in the process of carrying out student education and teaching provides direct moral experience for the formation of students' ideological and moral qualities.^[5] To carry out honesty education for college students, it is necessary to strengthen the selection of models and positive publicity and education to guide students to follow the example of excellent teachers and learn their excellent qualities of love, dedication and dedication. Under the influence of the typical teachers' demonstration, students can constantly solidify their personal morality, form an all-round educational atmosphere, and promote the honest education to produce a good educational effect.

5.5 To Occupy the Main Position of Network Education and Cultivate the “Network Opinion Leader” of Honest Education

In the network era, it has become an important content of ideological and political education to occupy the position of the Internet and carry out network ideological and political education. It should be a very important task for clean education in colleges and universities to understand and master the behavior habits and preferences of students on the Internet, so that students are willing to read and like to watch, and imperceptibly inculcate the content of clean education to students. On the one hand, through the network ideological and political education, can play a positive education effect, enhance the ideological and political guidance; On the other hand, it is necessary to actively cultivate network opinion leaders among teachers and students, take the initiative, guide students to learn to correctly view the problem of corruption, and continuously enhance the credibility of teachers and students in the promotion of media literacy^[6].

Colleges and universities to realize further deepen the significance of college students' honesty education, closely surrounding the unswervingly promote comprehensive governing party, around khalid ents fundamental task, good study the deployment of the new situation under the new requirements of anti-corruption but inexpensive propaganda education work, the college students' honesty education, to carry out study School of party to build a clean government work, take strong measures to ensure the sustained deepening of college students' honesty education work, continuously made new achievements.
