Abstract: Curriculum political thought construction is a strategic measure for institution of higher learning to implement the fundamental task of moral education, and an important starting point for improving the quality of personnel training. As a systematic project, curriculum political thought construction in institution of higher learning is still in its infancy. Innovating the educational system in institution of higher learning, promoting the integration, integration and harmony of political thought education, realizing the transformation from "political thought course" to "political thought course", exploring a brand-new path of political thought course construction, and promoting the two-way development of students' knowledge literacy and ideological quality have become the key tasks faced by university teachers. Improve students' literacy in all aspects, and cultivate students to become outstanding talents with excellent academic performance. According to the overall thinking of background research, theoretical elaboration, exploring difficulties and finding out methods, this paper explores the realization path of political thought education in institution of higher learning in the new era.

1. Introduction

"Political thought work is the party's fine tradition, distinctive features and prominent political advantages, and is the lifeline of all work. "In recent years, around the clear requirement put forward at the National Conference on Political Thought Work in Institution of Higher Learning to "run political thought work through the whole process of education and teaching, and achieve full education and all-round education", institution of higher learning are constantly promoting the development of the connotation of political thought theory courses. At the same time, the political thought construction of the curriculum is an important breakthrough to further implement the party's educational policy, improve the ability to cultivate talents, and cultivate people's effectiveness [1]. With the acceleration of the globalization process, different cultural traditions and values have emerged around the world. Through communication and collision, while broadening our horizons and ideas, it creates more convenient communication conditions, showing the characteristics of diversification in the ideological and cultural fields. On the one hand, the rapid development of society has broadened the international perspective of college education, on the other hand It also affects the objective understanding of traditional thought [2].

The political thought work system runs through the subject system and teaching system, and builds an integrated education system in an all-round way to realize the reform of political thought courses. Therefore, how to cultivate a healthy and correct political thought awareness for students and explore a new path for the political thought construction of courses has become an important topic for current university teachers [3]. Curriculum political thought education advocates that the spirit of political thought education and the content of political thought education be integrated into all curriculum teaching, so that various courses and political thought education go in the same direction, and build a synergistic political thought education curriculum system. Curriculum political thought education is a new model of political thought teaching, which is in line with the basic laws of political thought education. To give full play to the educational function of curriculum ideology and politics, it is necessary to further explore the value connotation and optimization path of curriculum political thought construction in institution of higher learning in practice, to build a large pattern of curriculum political thought cooperation with joint management, and to promote the goal of educating people in all aspects and the whole process. Implementation [4].

2. The Significance of Political Thought Construction in Institution of Higher Learning

2.1. Theoretical value

It is conducive to enriching and expanding the theoretical research on political thought courses in institution of higher learning. In order to fully tap the educative function of all courses and realize the fundamental goal of cultivating people with morality, institution of higher learning are actively putting forward political thought concepts of courses and exploring practical paths [5]. At present, most scholars in academia have conducted relevant research on the connotation, value and construction path of curriculum ideology and politics, and have achieved certain results. The effective cut-in is also an important starting point for perfecting the "three comprehensive education" for all employees in the whole process [6].

It is necessary to give full play to the educative function of each course, and guide students to make more efforts in improving moral cultivation, strengthening ideals and beliefs, enhancing patriotism, and improving overall quality. Secondly, improve the ability to educate people in the course ideology and politics. In curriculum political thought education, teachers should strengthen the effective integration of ideological education and curriculum construction, strengthen general education, cultural quality education and traditional cultural education for students, so as to demonstrate the value of cultural education. Finally, through political thought education, let students move towards the correct life path, constantly establish firm patriotic thoughts for them, let students have the correct national concept, guide students to master, understand and apply Marxism-Leninism, so that they can apply Marxism-Leninism thought to life. From the guidelines, fully understand the society and oneself, and use these theoretical knowledge to solve practical problems, so as to be able to clarify one's own position and principles in the complex social environment in the future, and become the real pillar of the country in the new era [7].

2.2. Significance of the topic

In theory, in order to realize the party and the state's expectations for the cultivation of college students, and at the same time follow the far-reaching layout of education development in the new era, institution of higher learning need to carefully sort out the work ideas for the next step. The proposal of the political thought concept of the curriculum breaks through the single training mode of political thought education, and is an active attempt to form a "community of education" in institution of higher learning in the new era [8]. The construction of political thought courses in institution of higher learning conforms to the basic laws of education, and can effectively solve the situation that individual political thought theory courses are marginalized. Some college teachers have a one-sided cognition and believe that political thought education is the establishment of ideological outlook on life and values, and professional The transmission of curriculum knowledge has little relationship, and the relationship between the two is not clearly recognized, which leads to the lack of pertinence and systematicness of students' political thought education, and does not make professional curriculum teaching an effective help for students to cultivate morality. In professional teaching, it is necessary to artistically integrate political thought education, improve the persuasiveness and affinity of political thought courses, and fully reflect the educating responsibilities and functions of each teacher and each course. The teaching and research ideas and methods are shown in Figure 1.

3. The difficulties faced by the political thought construction of college courses in the new era

3.1. Do a good job in top-level design and strengthen the main responsibility of curriculum political thought construction

First of all, the main leaders of the party and government of the school should effectively strengthen the political leadership and organizational leadership of the political thought construction of the curriculum, guide the political thought construction of the curriculum, establish a leading group for the political thought construction of the curriculum, and clarify the specific goals of the political thought construction of the curriculum and the division of job responsibilities. Under the unified leadership of the school's party committee, a Marxist academy will be built, which will integrate the school's academic affairs office, the publicity department, the Youth League Committee, the Ministry of Education and other functional departments, and fully mobilize professional teachers, full-time teachers of political thought theory courses, class teachers, counselors, etc. Many scholars have carried out research on the value implication of curriculum ideology and politics from different angles and levels. The core literacy system is shown in Table 1.

Table 1 Core literacy system table

Ability to communicate in mother tongue	Ability to communicate in foreign languages.	Mathematics literacy and basic scientific literacy	Digital literacy
Learn to learn literacy	Participate in social civic literacy	Participation consciousness and entrepreneurial spirit accomplishment	Culture and Expression Literacy

To sum up, it mainly includes the following points: First, curriculum ideology and politics are an important starting point for the implementation of the fundamental task of establishing morality and cultivating people in institution of higher learning; second, walking in the same direction as political thought theory courses to form a complete curriculum education system, Thereby improving the function of classroom teaching and educating people; thirdly, it plays a leading role in the value of students and enhances the ability of institution of higher learning to cultivate talents. In the previous evaluation system, the number of teachers' scientific research projects, the number of honors they received, and the number of published articles were mainly used as evaluation indicators, and the evaluation of teachers' teaching process was ignored [9]. It is necessary to reform this evaluation system, shift the focus of evaluation to the quality of teaching, take the development and growth of students as the evaluation scale, realize the unity of teachers' practical education and teaching education, and externalize political thought education in the practice and internalization in to form a new evaluation system for philosophy and social sciences

3.2. Change the educational concept and focus on student-oriented

College teachers should proceed from the actual situation of the current curriculum, adhere to the "student-oriented" teaching concept in the new era, based on the "learning" of students, and change the traditional status of teachers and students, so that students become the leaders and teachers are the leaders. on. It is necessary to improve professional teachers' awareness of curriculum ideology and politics. The teaching of political thought education in institution of higher learning cannot rely solely on the teachers of political thought theory courses. Teachers of professional courses must establish the awareness of "cultivating people with morality", get rid of ideological misunderstandings, improve their understanding of political thought education, and regard course political thought education as a discipline and a discipline. A kind of value, a kind of belief to study hard [10]. Teachers of professional courses must strengthen their belief in Marxism, and actively pay attention to the important affairs of the party and the country.

Exploring different types of courses and the combination of political thought courses, the results mainly include: first, how to tap the political thought education elements contained in various courses; second, what teaching methods are used in the courses; third , according to the teaching content and teaching methods after the curriculum reform, how to carry out the corresponding assessment. Adhere to the guidance of Marxist theory and realize the collaborative innovation of Marxist theory and political thought education. In the course of political thought construction in institution of higher learning, three tasks need to be done well. First, clarify the main responsibility of the party committee of institution of higher learning in the reform of political thought education. The Party committees of institution of higher learning must always adhere to the guiding position of Marxist theory when providing guidance and political leadership to the work of philosophy and social sciences in institution of higher learning. Second, strengthen the support of Marxist theoretical disciplines. College teachers can organize and carry out extracurricular activities that young students love, so that these activities can fully stimulate the enthusiasm of students, actively participate in ideological construction, and then use the theme education, practical exercise, volunteer service and other practical activities to strengthen the backbone. The political thought consciousness of the students enables these outstanding student cadres to give full play to their leading role and realize the political thought propaganda of the class.

4. Conclusions

The political thought construction of curriculum is a strategic measure to implement the fundamental task of moral education, an important task to improve the quality of personnel training in an all-round way, and an important starting point for running socialist universities with Chinese characteristics well and cultivating socialist successors with all-round development. With the reform and exploration of curriculum political thought education in some institution of higher learning in Shanghai, at present, major institution of higher learning have also invested in the construction of curriculum political thought education. For example, the results of educational practices such as teachers' participation in teaching competitions, student counseling competitions, and psychological counseling for students can be included in the evaluation criteria, so as to stimulate teachers' enthusiasm for teaching and encourage teachers to devote more energy to teaching practice. Then, through meticulous ideological guidance, Internet platform and other means, expand the political thought education position, enhance the effectiveness of political thought education, and implement political thought education in all stages of students, give full play to the students' main role, and realize the organic unity of political thought education, professional course teaching and moral education.
