

Discussion on the Innovation of Party Construction Mechanism in College Students' Ideological and Political Education

Sun Yijia

Jining Medical University, Rizhao, Shandong, 276826, China

Keywords: college students; ideological and political education; party building mechanism; model innovation

Abstract: As a transitional period from the student era to the society, the university period should not only focus on the cultivation of students' professional knowledge and skills, but also enhance their application ability. It also needs to focus on strengthening the ideological and political education for students. To improve students' moral literacy and level of thought. The party building work of college students is an important part of the ideological and political education of universities. It is also the core content of quality education and grassroots party building in colleges and universities. At the same time, how to promote the morality of students and the all-round development of subject quality through the ideological and political education of college students is to promote college students. An important way for party building work to be carried out effectively. This article will discuss how to innovate the party building mechanism and promote the party building work and ideological and political education in the ideological and political education of college students.

1. Introduction

The effective promotion of party building work is an important factor to promote the rational and orderly development of colleges and universities and the improvement of students' comprehensive literacy level. By carrying out party building education in ideological and political education, on the one hand, we can cultivate students' sense of responsibility and political consciousness for students. We will lay a good foundation for future work and development. On the other hand, we can effectively improve the ideological and political level of college students, promote the improvement of the overall quality of college students, and guarantee the supply of high-quality talents. In the face of the new situation, the party and government work in colleges and universities needs to conform to the development direction of the times, give play to the advanced nature and organizational advantages of party and government ideology, do a good job in ideological and political education for college students, and improve students' ideological and political level and ideological consciousness. In terms of how to improve the ideological and political education of college students and the effectiveness of party building work, educators should focus on the perspectives of classroom knowledge and student work, and promote the mutual promotion of ideological and political education and party building work from the perspective of connection. The most important Yes, educators should promote the initiative of college students to accept ideological and political knowledge through the innovation of ideological and political education methods and means, and consciously participate in the process of party building.

In terms of ideological and political education innovation, educators should start from the following aspects: First, pay attention to the improvement of students' moral quality by ideological and political education, so as to promote the development of party building; second, focus on starting from the student group. Pay attention to the demonstration role between the students and the interaction between them, and promote the effective implementation of the party building work through the organization of the student group; the third is to focus on the advancement, on the one hand, introduce new technologies into the ideological and political teaching, and promote the modernization of teaching methods. On the other hand, it reflects the spirit of the times in teaching, allowing students to realize the practical significance of party building work and actively participate in the process of party building.

2. Pay attention to the improvement of ideological and political education mechanism, emphasizing the core position of party building work

The improvement of the ideological and political education mechanism and the establishment and innovation of the party building mechanism are interrelated and mutually reinforcing relationships. On the one hand, ideological and political education can meet the students' needs for moral quality and political literacy, enhance students' sense of social responsibility, and enable students to better participate in the construction of the party building mechanism; on the other hand, the party building mechanism Effective innovation can also promote the rise of students' ideological and moral standards and the enhancement of social practice ability, which has an important back-feeding effect on the development and development of university ideological and political education. University educators should pay attention to the improvement of ideological and political education mechanism and the innovation of teaching methods, so that ideological and political education can be combined with the specifics of students, and stimulate students' sense of social responsibility. Through the future development direction of the students' professional development and the political and philosophical knowledge contained in the ideological and political education, the ideological and political education can maximize the promotion of the students' spiritual level and encourage the students to establish correctness. The concept of life, values, time, and further promote the formation of students' social outlook and correct orientation, laying the foundation for party building work.

The establishment of the university party building mechanism is not only included in the function of ideological and political teaching, but also closely related to the students' study and life, and can effectively promote the development of ideological and political education, which is not completely subordinated. However, as an important means of establishing the party building mechanism, educators must emphasize the core position of college students' party building in the process of teaching, take the effective development of party building work as the main goal, and the students' ideological and moral cultivation and the awareness and level of political participation. To cultivate, we will always adhere to the direction of correct thinking, arm the students' minds with the scientific theoretical system, guide the students' practice, and promote the improvement of their ideological level as an important part of the university's ideological and political teaching, in order to enhance students' thinking. consciousness. At the same time, teachers should also pay attention to the development and training of student party members, improve the students' ideological level with ideological and political education, strengthen the students' confidence in joining the party, and enhance students' ideological understanding and time ability in participating in party building work, so as to promote through ideological education. The effectiveness of effective and high-quality development of party building work.

For example, in the ideological and political teaching of the students of the Faculty of Law, the teacher can introduce the current status and development prospects of the current legal construction in China, and let the students understand that the implementation of the rule of law is lower than that of today's China. Strengthening the importance of legal system construction, so that students' understanding of the profession is deepened by "a profession that is better at finding a job" to "a profession that can truly contribute to the development of the country and the realization and maintenance of the people's interests." In order to deepen the students' understanding of the profession, strengthen the relationship between students' professional learning and the realization of social values, and strengthen the confidence and hope of students to contribute to the country and the people, and promote students' sense of social responsibility. Formation and promotion. At the same time, the relationship between the development of law majors and ideological and political knowledge points is linked to enhance students' enthusiasm for studying ideological and political courses.

3. The mutual supervision and common development among students as an important driving force for party building

In the process of the development of ideological and political education for college students, educators should pay sufficient attention to the main targets of the party building work and the students of the main activities. In the context of the gradual dilution of the concept of college classes, the main communication activities between students and others occur mostly in the bedroom and student organizations. In this case, the connections between the students are closer than those in the middle and high schools, and the influence is greater. However, it is more difficult for the educators to manage. Therefore, in the process of party building work, instead of letting our teachers intervene too much in the daily life of students, it is better to focus on strengthening the cultivation of students' consciousness and comprehensive ability so that students can participate in their daily activities. Promote mutual promotion and common development within the student body through a benign guidance and demonstration role. The integration of the party building work of college students with the formation and display of the students' collective consciousness is encouraged to participate in the students.

Through the internal activities of student groups to promote the development of party building, the first thing that needs is the promotion and demonstration of the student groups by the outstanding individuals such as student cadres and student party members. The main reasons are as follows: First, student party members and student cadres are among the college students with a high degree of ideological awareness, and relatively speaking, individuals who are more motivated to participate in party building and have stronger ability to work, are in the student community. As well as the student union and other student organizations, which are usually located in decision-making and leadership positions, the speeches and behaviors of student party members and student cadres often have a high driving force in the group and can effectively lead other students to participate in the party building process. From the individual student's point of view, as party members and student cadres, they themselves assume the responsibility of establishing demonstrations and standard images, and playing a benign inducement for other students' learning and daily life. In daily life, students usually learn and struggle with the leaders in the group as role models and goals. Therefore, we carry out party culture for college student party members and student officers, and promote their understanding of their status and functions. Their ability to influence the surrounding students can be more conducive to the output of talents.

At the same time, we also need to pay attention to the impact of students' learning and living environment on students' thinking and behavior patterns. As a social animal, people's ideas and behaviors in daily life are influenced by the living environment and the groups in which they live, and can also adversely affect group activities. I believe that the use of the interaction between students to carry out party building should be carried out mainly from the two aspects of students' daily life and social interaction. First of all, we need to pay attention to the influence of the students' bedroom. As the main rest area of the students, the dormitory plays an important role in the formation of students' ideological understanding. Therefore, we should not be limited to classroom teaching in the process of ideological and political training. It should be infiltrated into students' lives, infiltrated into the students' dormitory, and expand the scope of party building work. Let the students set up a party and government study group in the dormitory to promote the formation and development of students' political awareness with the joint learning and common progress of the group members. At the same time, we also need to focus on the role that student organizations can play as a place and platform for students to interact and interact on a daily basis. For the regular academic organization of the student union, which is more organized, the responsible teachers should pay attention to the ideological dynamics of the department officers and guide them in time. For community organizations and other informal student groups, the school needs to pay more attention to the cultivation of students' collective consciousness, and select representatives from the collective to carry out party building work.

For example, during the Games, we did some of the student union officers' participation in the venue layout and management in order to receive the allowance, and even did not participate in the subsidy, and did not participate in the responsibility of the student cadres and the dedication of the money-oriented ideological tendency. Severe criticism, and at the same time, ideological education and guidance to the new members of the new student union, so that students realize that they are owned by the student cadres, not only the power to participate in the management of the college, but more importantly The responsibility of providing students with value orientation and behavioral standards around them has increased the sense of responsibility of student leaders themselves.

4. Pay attention to advancing with the times in terms of teaching methods and teaching content.

Advancing with the times is the most direct requirement for the innovation of the party building mechanism of the university. Only by fully adapting to the trend of the times and applying new knowledge and teaching methods to teaching, can we make the ideological and political teaching truly lead the trend first. The resonance of the line of college students, too, only by correctly grasping the spirit of the times and integrating it into the ideological and political teaching of the university, can we enable students to correctly grasp the characteristics of the current era and the future social development trends, so that they can Find your own goals and directions. In the process of innovation in ideological and political education, we should pay attention to the simultaneous advancement of methods and content, with new teaching methods and teaching tools as the direct carrier of the current era spirit, and let the students feel the times through the comparison of the old and the old teaching modes. The change, from the experience to the current mainstream of China's society.

First of all, we should innovate in teaching methods and teaching methods. The ideological and political education has been relatively stable for students' training goals and their spiritual connotations for decades, that is, to pay attention to the morality of students with social responsibility. The cultivation of quality and the improvement of the level of thought. The relatively stable academic connotation of a long time has made many teachers pay attention to the continuation of traditional methods in terms of teaching thoughts, but have not noticed the change of teaching concepts and the richness of teaching tools in the new era, often the classroom teaching is based on the textbook content. Mainly, the classroom atmosphere is dull and boring. In the case of college students who are representatives of the new era, it is easy for them to equate the words of ideological and political learning with adherence to tradition and obedience to the rules, which is not conducive to students accepting ideological and political teaching while reducing teaching efficiency. Thought guiding. Therefore, in the classroom teaching, we need to pay attention to the introduction of new methods and teaching methods. Enrich our classroom content by using technologies such as multimedia and web information. At the same time, in terms of the dissemination of information, we can also carry out propaganda of party building work in a way that can be accepted by college students by operating WeChat public account and opening Weibo, and give students correct guidance on the Internet.

At the same time, in the content of teaching, we also need to pay attention to keeping pace with the times, so that the university's ideological and political teaching shows a "time-sensitive" feature, so that students really feel that the ideological and political knowledge is integrated into the entire society. Including their own life. In the selection of teaching cases, we should take a recent social focus event and interpret it through the socialist theoretical system, so that students can improve their understanding of Marxist theory while grasping China's political trends. The correct thinking influences the students in the ideological and political teaching. At the same time, we should also strengthen communication with students, use the events encountered by students in daily life as the carrier to carry out ideological and political teaching, directly link ideological and political guidance with the daily life of students, and break the classroom and student life. The boundaries between the students are able to truly guide the practice with the right ideas in their daily lives.

At the same time, we should also pay attention to the development of practical activities, so that students can try to grasp the pulse of the times in social practice. For example, when teaching about rejuvenating the country through science and education, we can encourage students to try to participate in teaching activities so that they can understand the importance of the development of education in the development of modern Chinese society, thus raising university learning to the social level and motivating them. Through the study of professional courses to enhance their scientific and cultural qualities.

5. Summary

The innovation of the party building mechanism plays an important role in promoting the ideological and political education of the university. The school not only needs to popularize the party's knowledge, introduce the party's history, and, more importantly, through our teachers and teachers in the ideological and political classroom. The leading role of the members of the school party organization shows the students the moral qualities and spiritual qualities that the Communists should have, and stimulates the students' desire and embarrassment for the party. At the same time, we also need to pay attention to the innovation of classroom teaching methods, in order to promote students in the knowledge, but also in moral literacy, to achieve all-round progress.

Acknowledgement

In this paper, the research was sponsored by School Level Subject: Research on the Reform, Innovation and Role of College Students' Grassroots Party Organizations (Subject Number: 201720).

References

- [1] Liu Zhaoying. Constructing a new model of university ideological and political education + quality education with the core of student party building. [J]. Wen Cun's Reading, 2018 (02).
- [2] Zhang Wei. Discussion on the Combination of Party Building and Ideological and Political Education in College Students. [J]. Silk Road Vision, 2018 (02).
- [3] Wang Haiwei, Wang Bocheng. The credibility and practice of ideological and political thinking in colleges and universities. [J]. School Party Building and Ideological Education, 2018 (14).