The objective fact is that in this highly competitive and complicated society, college students have neither superb acting nor rich qualifications. They are difficult to cope with the role of the model and they are unable to compete with the authority. Give full play to the backbone leading role and vanguard exemplary role in the ideological and political education of College students. We should persist in building Party branches in classes and strive to achieve the goal of "Party members in lower grades and Party branches in higher grades" in undergraduate classes. When people put the meaning and value of life on the basis of pure material money and wealth, it will undoubtedly be more painful to feel the hardship of life, the inconstancy of life and the pain of life, resulting in a sense of fragmentation of the separation of spirit and flesh, and the emptiness of mind.
