Abstract: United front work is a subject that combines theory, history and practice, and has strong political, dynamic and realistic characteristics. At the present stage, in order to optimize the unified strategy of socialism with Chinese characteristics, constantly update its working methods and make achievements, it is necessary to adhere to the concept of United front work as the leading factor and strengthen the study of the theory of the United front of socialism with Chinese characteristics, so as to provide strong ideological guidance and practical guidance for the development of the unified strategy of socialism in China and promote the rapid and stable development of our country. Therefore, this paper mainly analyzes the new viewpoint of United front work, and narrates the theoretical research on strengthening the United front work of socialism with Chinese characteristics, in order to contribute to the realization of socialism construction with Chinese characteristics.

1. Introduction

United front work is the main content of marxist political party's political development strategy, and it is also the ideological weapon to lead the working class to realize the historical mission. Its fundamental goal is to carry out in-depth research on the specific things of the party's united front, thus forming a theoretical mechanism to perfect the system. In the theory of socialist unity strategy of our country, inheriting the Marxist Leninist United front thought and Mao Zedong's United front idea, it mainly originates from the grand practice of reform and opening up and the modernization construction of characteristic socialism in our country. At present, in order to deeply study the theory of the United front work with our country's characteristics and constantly innovate new ideas, we need to adhere to the new viewpoint of the United front work, so as to carry out a deep study on it and clarify the goal of the socialist construction of our country, so as to promote the rapid and stable development of our country and lay the foundation for the realization of the socialist construction with characteristics.

2. It is Necessary to Demonstrate the Significance of Strengthening the Theoretical Study of the United Front Work of Socialism with Chinese Characteristics

2.1. Meet the Overall Position of the Unified Strategy in the Work of the Party and the State and the Needs of The Mandate

The arrival of the 21st century, especially the "Regulations on the Unified Strategic Work of the Communist Party of China" points out the theory of "important contracting out", and further clarifies the development direction of the unified strategic work of socialism with Chinese characteristics. As shown in the speech at the meeting. Show Through the vigorous development of reform and opening up in the past 40 years, our country has become a great socialist country, and its comprehensive ability has been continuously improved, playing a leading role in international social affairs[1]. China's development road and construction with Chinese characteristics have become a global hot topic. But also be aware of the differences between our country and the developed countries. Therefore, it is necessary to pay more attention to the United front work, take a long-term view, have a strong sense of suffering, and make good strategic arrangements in order to promote the rapid development of the cause of the United front work of socialism with Chinese characteristics.

2.2. Meet the Development Needs of Governance Under the New Historical Conditions

In the face of the weakness of the world economic recovery at the present stage, the deepening development of globalization and the changing of the world political pattern, the difficulties of building a well-off society in an all-round way and the increasing consistency of modern Chinese society, we should give full play to the promoting role of the unified strategy of socialism with Chinese characteristics in gathering people's hearts, condensing forces, coordinating development and resolving contradictions. Furthermore, during the launching of the National United Front Conference, the CPC Central Committee gave instructions to consolidate and develop the United Front as an important channel for strengthening the Party's ruling level and enhancing the national cohesion[2]. Since the reform and development, the Communist Party of China has made clear the united front of socialism with Chinese characteristics, and laid a solid foundation for promoting the reform and opening-up development of our country and the socialist modernization of science and technology. as shown in Fig.2.

2.3. Meet the Needs of Building Civilization on the Road of Socialist Political Development

The new viewpoint of United front work and the study of the theory of the united front of socialism with Chinese characteristics are the basic requirements for promoting the development of socialist democratic politics and optimizing the "five major united front relations". Taking the new vision of United front work as a research point of view, we must adhere to the socialist democratic model of consultation, election and autonomy, and promote the harmonious and stable development of our compatriots'ties, democratic ties, class ties, religious ties and contacts at home and abroad, so as to further realize the unified construction of the Party leadership, the people's ownership of the country and the rule of law. At the same time, the new argument of United Front Studies requires our country to adhere to the political development line of characteristic socialism, so as to achieve the goal of clarifying the basic political requirements, always according to the national development of our country, study independently, do not blindly follow the way of political construction of other countries, and use the mentality of inclusive development to view and learn from the development results of western political civilization, so that our country can further highlight the spirit of the times and conform to the trend of the development of national politics in the world.

It can be seen that the study of strengthening the theory of the United front of socialism with characteristics can show the basic law of developing socialism in the country with lagging economy and culture, and promote the establishment of the unified strategy of our country to have the characteristics of objectivity and reality. Analyzing from the practical point of view and paying attention to the study of the theory of the United front of socialism with Chinese characteristics can promote the development of socialism, enhance the strength of socialist cohesion and centripetal force, promote the development of our nation's condensed mental force, and also show the power of the unified strategy of socialism with Chinese characteristics to the whole world.

3. It is Necessary to Demonstrate the Main Contents of the Theoretical Study on Strengthening the United Front Work of Socialism With Chinese Characteristics

3.1. Serving the Core Tasks of the Party and the State

The new viewpoint of United front work and the issue of leadership are the basic problems of the unified strategy of socialism with characteristics in our country. Of course, in order to always adhere to the leadership of the Communist Party, we need to strengthen and improve the Party's leadership policy, as shown in figure 3. The Party's effective leadership of the unified strategy of socialism with characteristics in China needs to rely on the correct principles, line and relevant policies to give full play to the exemplary and leading role of being a cadre. At the same time, it is also necessary for non-Party personages to consult fairly, listen to relevant opinions conscientiously, accept supervision, respect the interests of non-Party personages in all aspects, understand the ideological trends, value orientations and interests of non-Party personages, and help them solve practical problems effectively[3]. At the same time, the unified strategy of socialism with characteristics is an organic combination of social and political theories under the same goal. Only by implementing the principle of equality and equity can we achieve mutual cooperation, mutual development and mutual progress. In addition, it is necessary to maintain democratic consultations and focus on party leadership during the consultations. As an important mode of optimizing the Party's leadership over the unified strategy of socialism with characteristics, democratic consultation is also an important mode of optimizing and improving the basic norms and work practice of the internal relations of the unified strategy of socialism with characteristics. Therefore, before the beginning of the negotiation, we should do the relevant preparatory work; during the negotiation, maintain the theorem, remonstrate, take care of each other, the opinions or suggestions that can be selected should be applied, and the opinions that cannot be adopted should also explain the reasons.

The theory of the United front of socialism with Chinese characteristics and the connection of all kinds of United front work are the main components of the political superstructure, and in the final analysis serve to promote the development of the productive forces of our socialist society. At the present stage, the socialist unified strategy of our country should actively highlight its own advantages, create a favorable situation for handling the five major United front work ties, actively mobilize and activate the active participation of various democratic parties and personages outside the Party, so as to strengthen the building of socialism with Chinese characteristics and contribute to the realization of all-round development.

3.2. To Resolve the Problems of Patriotism and Socialist Development

Patriotism has a strong ability of inspiration and cohesion, which is fully reflected in the development of modern history of our country. At the present stage, according to the history of the Party and the people's hard work and development, it is proved that only socialism can save and develop China, and it is necessary for our country to unswervingly follow the socialist road and make it an independent country, which further embodies the historical truth of our society [4]. Under the background of modern China, the essential goal of patriotism and socialism is consistent, and strengthening the construction of socialism with Chinese characteristics is the central theme of patriotism in the new era. At present, the self-confident Chinese gradually realize that only by building characteristic socialism, can China become a rich, strong, democratic, civilized and friendly country.

The new viewpoint of United front work and the study of the theory of the United front of socialism with characteristics in our country have found that the great unity and the big party are also the main indexes to measure the effect of technological strategy work and the basic requirements for the innovation and development. In fact, the unity and unity strategy are closely linked. Nowadays, the goal of our country's construction is to realize the Chinese Dream of the great rejuvenation of the nation. This goal further demonstrates the fundamental interests of the people of all ethnic groups in our country, and is also the common pursuit of countless generations of revolutionary martyrs. To promote the development of the United front relationship with socialism with Chinese characteristics, we need to focus on the great goal of socialism. To realize unity and unity, we need to focus on the interests and aspirations of the majority of people and make it an important reference basis for our party and the state to formulate policies, principles and solve practical problems, ensure that every policy and regulation adheres to the principle of overall benefits and the overall tolerance in real time, obtains the understanding and support of the broad masses as far as possible, and makes the people realize the connection between the whole and individual interests, the overall situation and local interests, and long-term and short-term interests, so as to promote the unified strategic development of socialism with Chinese characteristics and promote the rise of our country and nation.

4. Conclusion

To sum up, the new vision of United front work, as the leading thought to strengthen the theoretical research of the United front work with Chinese characteristics, needs to innovate and optimize the inherent United front work theory, insist on upholding the leadership of the Communist Party and unswervingly follow the road of socialist development, so as to make a function for the realization of Chinese Dream, ensure the rapid and stable development of our country and improve our core strength.
