General Secretary Xi Jinping put forward the new development concept of rural revitalization strategy in the report of the 19th CPC National Congress. Under the background of rural revitalization strategy, how can the characteristic towns in Shaanxi be more distinctive? In the context of rural revitalization strategy, Shaanxi ushered in a lot of new development momentum. This paper believes that Shaanxi needs to combine the development opportunities of rural revitalization, combined with the humanistic characteristics of Shaanxi villages, to construct characteristic town depending on natural resource endowment and so on.

The Household and Construction Ministry, the National development and reform commission, ministry of finance jointly issued the notice for the conduct of the characteristic town in July 2016, put forward to 2020, to about 1000 specialty town in China, in December 2016, the state council issued the "much starker choices-and graver consequences-in" tourism industry development planning ", put forward the tourism + urbanization, China will build a batch of tourism town, forest town, a low characteristic town famous town, unique landscape. With the introduction of various national policy documents, the construction of small towns with Chinese characteristics has become a hot spot. Strategy of rejuvenating rural background, shaanxi in the process of urbanization, can fit into investment, culture, tourism and other aspects construction characteristic town, with its own resources advantage, professional advantage, technology advantage, such as deepening the characteristic town construction content, strengthen the support "area" characteristic culture, promote the development of shaanxi tourism characteristic town, build town in shaanxi characteristics of the production, life, ecological town "good convergence". 2. Review of research status

The trend of the construction of special town began in Zhejiang Province and has been developing rapidly in China, but there is no professional theory to support it. In reality, there is no clear definition of Characteristic Town. The Ministry of Housing and Urban-rural Development, the National Development and Reform Commission, the Ministry of Finance and other agencies require that the "Characteristic Town" be featured with distinctive characteristics, industrial development, green ecology, and beautiful livable.

The 19th CPC National Congress first put forward the "Implementation Rural Revitalization Strategy". The symposium of "Construction of Small Towns With Chinese Characteristics and Overseas Communication" was held in Beijing on December 15, 2017, which entered into an in-depth discussion on the normative construction and sustainable development of small towns with...
Chinese characteristics in the new era. Guoqiang Gao, director of the research management department of the Institute of Macroeconomic Research of National Development and Reform Commission, believes that the construction of small towns with Chinese characteristics should be recognized in the context of the Rural Revitalization Strategy. The characteristic town is the bridge and important support of the countryside revitalization. Without the cultivation and development of the characteristic town, there will be no real revitalization of the countryside.

There are "characteristics town " in CNKI input keywords in China, nearly three years about the document of "town" number increased year by year, the existing literature mainly focused on the characteristics of the meaning of the town itself parsing, the relationship between characteristics of town and the new urbanization, characteristics of town planning thought, countermeasures of building a characteristic town and characteristic town tourism resources development, characteristic of the small town ecological tourism industry development, the characteristics of small town and characteristic town development pattern and characteristic of the construction of small town of SWOT analysis, regional characteristics of small town construction mentality, the characteristics of small town development level index system and evaluation method, etc.

Wu yizhou, Chen qianhu and zheng xiaohong (2016) hold that the core of characteristic towns is characteristic industries in the article "index system and evaluation method of development level of characteristic towns". Based on the connotation of characteristic town, the development level evaluation system of characteristic town is divided into four dimensions: industrial dimension, functional dimension, morphological dimension and institutional dimension. The characteristic town industry is "special and strong", the function is "united together", the form is "fine but beautiful", the system is "live but new" [2]. Seuss bin, xu-liang zhang (2016) in the town in zhejiang characteristics analysis in the practice mode of urbanization ", is put forward based on characteristic town of cultivation and construction, exploration to promote the "small towns development platform, small area, little space agglomeration, carrier innovation" of the new urban space development, production, integration development of modern open town, is at the top of "top-down" design and combination of "bottom-up" grassroots explore efficient way of advancing the new urbanization [3]. Zhang Jifu (2016) on the characteristics of small town construction path and mode - in datong city in Shanxi Province as an example, put forward the characteristics of small town is a special industry, regional culture, a beautiful environment, and form a complete set of perfect combination, to optimize the industrial structure, productivity layout, space allocation of resources and promote the supply side has important role in promoting structural reform, put forward to develop the "eight mode" characteristic town: ci-poetry characteristic town, industrial park characteristic town, tourism characteristic town, trade logistics characteristic town, kang have leisure characteristic town, characteristics of modern agricultural town, photovoltaic energy characteristic town town [4], the red culture characteristics.

There is a large amount of literature on characteristic towns, but it is not very mature in theory and practice because the time is not long, so a relatively systematic and comprehensive theoretical system an7d framework have not been formed, especially the literature on the construction of characteristic towns in the large pattern of One Belt And One Road. This paper studies the construction path of small towns with shaanxi characteristics under the background of rural revitalization strategy, delves deeply into the cultural elements of rural shaanxi, integrates the elements, and promotes the emergence and development of small towns with shaanxi characteristics.
